CLUB OVERWHELMS MANAGERS

New York and New Jersey and Connecticut have already advanced their plans for a convention. The preliminary details of the majority vote for the national ticket may be kept to a minimum, but this city at Broadway will be opened up for the delegates. It is probable that the Eastern and Southern delegates will be managed from this city, while the Western delegates will be concentrated at the city of the "Rocky Mountain Committee." Will the Independence Convention of the leaders of the "New Party" be held in the Main California Hotel in every State from California to the Mexican border line to the Canadian and the Atlantic Ocean? The National Full State tickets will be placed in the hands of the members of both branches of the party.

OTTO COKE

The Economical, Clean, Smokeless Fuel, Specially Prepared for Domestic Use

Our NEW PROCESS of making OTTO COKE for DOMESTIC USE in HOUSE RANGES, STOVES and FURNACES begins at the MINES. WE OWN THE MINES, THE CARRIERS and the WORKS. We therefore CONTROL the ENTIRE SYSTEM from NATURE'S FUEL BED to the CONSUMER. This INSURES your getting the BEST COKE at the LOWEST PRICE.

We have already told you about the MINES and the CARRIERS, but the WORKS are the MOST INTERESTING of all. We wish EACH ONE of you could see THESE WORKS and EXAMINE the process FOR YOURSELF.

A PERSONAL INSPECTION would do more to CONVINCE you of the EXTREME CARE given to the manufacture of this NEW COKE than ANYTHING we could say in printed advertisements. You are FREELY INVITED to make a PERSONAL VISIT, and a card of admission will be given you on request.

THESE WORKS are the LARGEST in the United States. We carbolize 600,000 TONS of coal a year, enough for a good winter's supply for EVERY FAMILY in Boston. 600 MEN ARE employed, and the WORKS cover an area of 300 ACRES. We own many of our OWN CARS and LOCOMOTIVES; also have OUR OWN WATER WORKS.

The COKE is made in 400 large rectangular OTTO HOFFMAN OVENS. The COKE is carbonized, or coked, in these ovens about 35 HOURS.

In the OLD PROCESS very much

New Domestic Coke Better than Hard Coal and $2.00 Less Per Ton.

Try Some

In the OLD PROCESS very much

SMALLER OVENS are used and the cost is coked only about 5 HOURS.

The NEW PROCESS gives a HARDER, TEMPER COKE, very much STEADIER a BURNING, and of a more LASTING QUALITY.

The fuel costs you about $2.00 PER TON LESS than hard COAL and gives a QUICK FIRE with NO SMOKE and very much LESS ashes. It is CLEAN in every way, and with this NEW DOMESTIC PROCESS there is NO CLINKER to injure your grate.

If you do not wish to CHANGE all at once from HARD COAL to COKE, in winter next winter's supply of fuel, try not to let at least 25 cents in this NEW COKE?

You will be SURPRISED to find HOW NICELY it works in with the hard coal. It gives a QUICK FIRE in the BURNING TO TAKE OFF the CHILL, and is ESPECIALLY ADAPTED for use in the SPRING and FALL when a GAL FIRE is so UNCOMFORTABLE. Instead of your WILL HAVE about $2.00 a TON of hard coal DISPLACED.

THE NEW OTTO COKE is SPECIAL- PREPARED FOR DOMESTIC USE as the following state:

ITOVE and NUT for RANGE use. IGG and FURNACE for FURNACE use. THE BAG at your GROCERS and THE HALF TON and OVER at YOUR DEALERS.

A Cow in Your Kitchen—See What It Means

Rich milk or cream, rich and fresh, always on hand when you want it. No waiting for the milkman, no shortage, no waste. Better milk—cheaper milk—germless milk. That is what Van Camp's means to you.

You who still cling to the milkman—let us show you what you lose. Try one can of Van Camp's—a ten-cent can. Then judge what it means to have such milk all of the time. Try cooking with milk that has all the butter fat in it. Try drinking a milk that is sterilized. See what you gain in convenience—see what you save in money. Then see what you get—the richest, purest milk in the world.

Can you think of a reason for using raw, germ-laden milk when you can get Van Camp's?

Make Your Milk Dishes With Whole Milk.

You don't get the whole milk when you buy from the milkman. The reason is this: Milk that stands awhile separates. The butter fat rises and the solids fall. So you get all the butter fat only when served from the top of the can. Thus you are surprised when you first cook with Van Camp's, at the delicious flavor it gives to a milk dish. You wonder what we have added—what we have done—to make the milk seem so good. We have added nothing at all. Van Camp's is simply the whole, rich milk, just as it comes from the cow. You get all of the butter fat, all of the solids. You never get them all in raw milk. That flavor belongs to your cooking. You will get it every time in milk dishes made with Van Camp's.

We issue a Cook Book—free. It tells how to make all sorts of milk dishes, and gives the whole cost of each. Ask us to send it to you.

Nothing But Milk.

Van Camp's is simply rich, Holstein milk with two-thirds the water evaporated.

It is not like condensed milk, which is half sugar. You can't use condensed milk in cooking. In Van Camp's, nothing whatever is added—no sugar, no starch, no preservative. And nothing is subtracted, save part of the water, which you can put back when you get it. It is simply pure milk—nothing but milk—put up in a convenient and sterilized form.

Analysis shows about 30 per cent of solids, of which 8 per cent is butter fat.

It's Economical.

Van Camp's—with all of its goodness—is cheaper than milkman's milk. It's as thick as thick cream. So thick that you add one part water for coffee. Yet it doesn't cost half what you pay your milkman for cream. Add two parts water and you have rich milk. The cost of such milk, when you buy Van Camp's by the case, runs about six cents per quart. Then you have no waste—no milk left over. That saving in a year is enormous. And Van Camp's means a cow in your kitchen. Rich milk or cream always on tap. And always fresh—always the same.

Yet such milk, in such shape, costs you actually less than raw milk bought as you want it.

No Germs—No Danger.

But the great fact about Van Camp's is the fact that it's germless milk. Our cows are inspected; so are the men who milk them. There are no tubercular cows, no diseased milkmen, to convey their infections to Van Camp's Milk. Our dairies are sanitary. Our factories, where the milk is evaporated, are built without wood. We make a business of cleanliness.

Then the milk is sterilized after the cans are sealed. Not a germ of any kind can remain in it.

Please think what that means. In Washington, D. C., it was recently found that 11 per cent of the dealers were selling tubercular milk. Seven per cent of the milk, taken from 400 samples, proved fatal to guinea pigs. The pig died of tuberculosis.

That's but one of the risks you take in using raw milk. Any disease germs that get into milk breeds millions more in it within a few hours.

A great deal of illness is known to be due to infections conveyed by milk. Can you think of a reason for taking such risks when you can get Van Camp's?

For Children.

When immigrant babies arrive in New York they are fed on Van Camp's Milk. Their food is prescribed by physicians—by men who know the dangers that lurk in raw milk.

Two-thirds the mortality of children is due simply to germs in milk. Raw milk, like raw meat, is an unfit food. There is too much danger of germ infection.

Let your children drink Van Camp's. They will come to love the slight almond flavor, due to sterilization. For that flavor means that the milk is pure. Not a germ of any kind—harmless or harmful—exists in Van Camp's Milk.

Van Camp's Milk comes in 5 and 10-cent cans—at your grocer's. The first can will convince you. After that, get the discount allowed when you purchase by the case. Then you'll have it always on hand. Produced in five states, by the dairies of the Van Camp Packing Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

What Do You Want?

Have You Got Money? Yes? Then
You Can Have It. No Money?
Keep Quiet

Copyright, 1908, by American Journal-Examiner

This is a glorious Republic of glorious SUPPOSITIONS. All men are supposed to be equal, all are supposed to have the same rights before the law, and all are supposed to have the same opportunities. This is the REALITY: All men are equal when they have a million dollars each. All men are equal that have ten millions of dollars each. And all men are equal who have a hundred millions each. But the one-million man is not equal to the ten-million man, nor he to the one-hundred-million man.

As for the man who HASN'T a million, or ten millions, or a hundred millions, he is a funny, foolish kind of a thing, and what he wants he can't have.

Everything that happens throws light upon the power of money, and the powerlessness of men where money is lacking.

Suppose you are tried for murder, and are actually guilty of murder. You want to go free—at least, you want to escape capital punishment. HAVE YOU GOT MONEY? YOU ESCAPE. Have you no money? The electric chair is your share, and the big public purse gladly supplies the fluid that kills you.

Mr. Thaw shows us that he spent a million dollars on his murder trial. So he did. He was plucked by the lawyer set of vultures, almost sweetly. But THEY GAVE HIM HIS LIFE IN EXCHANGE FOR HIS MONEY. INSTEAD OF BEING PRONOUNCED A MURDERER HE WAS PRONOUNCED A LUNATIC. And he is waiting for the day when he shall go free and spend happily what the lawyers have left him.

Two brothers named Hains are accused of murder. There isn't the slightest doubt that one of them murdered a man, and that the other brother helped him; the second brother, being accessory before the fact, is as guilty as the man who fired the bullets into the body.

Those men can escape. HOW CAN THEY ESCAPE? By spending the necessary amount of money. The father and the brother of the men are busy. Their friends in the army are busy. What are they trying to do? Are they trying to show that these men had an excuse for their crime? No. Are they trying to gather reliable evidence as to the character of the man killed? No. THEY ARE TRYING TO GET MONEY. One fairy story in a newspaper announces that officers in the army are going to raise a fund of a million dollars. That sounds improbable. But if the officers of the army DID raise a fund of a million dollars, THESE MEN COULD TWIDDLE THEIR FINGERS AT THE ELECTRIC CHAIR.

They would soon find that all men are equal, UNLESS THEY HAVE MONEY, and then they are unequal.

The money wouldn't go to the judge, the money would not necessarily go to the jury.

Although it is not impossible, as experience teaches us that it is SOMETIMES possible to reach judge or jury, or both, with the right financial arguments.

FORTUNATELY, HONEST JUDGES AND HONEST JURIES IN MURDER TRIALS CAN ALMOST INVARIABLY BE COUNTED UPON, but even with the honest judge and the honest jury money will save the murderer's life.

Money hires clever lawyers. Money pays for appeals and delays. Money hires the experts that swear to anything on either side. Money confuses the jury. Money prepares a trial to which the newspapers pay great attention. IT IS MANY, MANY YEARS IN THE STATE OF NEW YORK SINCE ANY MAN WHO REALLY HAD A GOOD SUPPLY OF MONEY HAS BEEN FOUND GUILTY OF COMMITTING A MURDER. But murders by men with money are as common as they ever were.

If you want to escape the electric chair after committing murder, HAVE MONEY.

If you want to escape private life and go to the United States Senate, HAVE MONEY.

If you want to see your name in the papers as one of the world's important atoms, HAVE MONEY.

This is a country in which all men are free and equal with the exception of a few that have a million, or ten millions, or a hundred millions, and with them it is different.

It cannot well be otherwise, with our civilization and our human nature as they are. But it is well for men to realize actual conditions.

Dear Sir—Could you tell me anything of the estate of nearly $10,000,000 which was advertised in some papers, which advertisement was answered by Geoffrey Probst, of Brooklyn, and his sister Anna, of Reichenburg, Bavaria.

I had an uncle born in Germany who came to America and lived in Columbia, South Carolina. The last we heard of him was about twenty or twenty-five years ago, when he wrote us saying he was going far away, and to reply to the letter as soon as possible. When I read, about two weeks ago, that this Geoffrey Probst and his sister, Anna, are joint heirs of this estate, I thought that this might be my uncle, for he was a very wealthy man, and we have not heard from him since we received the letter I have mentioned.

If you can, will you kindly tell me where I should write in an answering this advertisement?

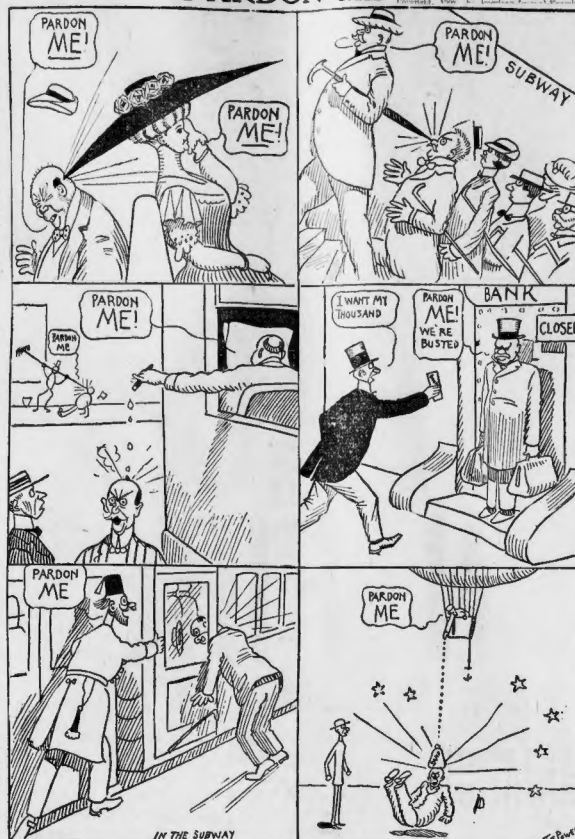

Yours truly,
CHARLES PHOENIX.

We know nothing about this particular "big fortune." These things are usually swindles. Poor people are persuaded to spend real money in the pursuit of visionary money. THERE IS NOT, SO FAR AS WE KNOW, A SINGLE CASE ON RECORD OF ANY ONE OF THESE SO-CALLED BIG FORTUNES IN CHANCERY, IN GERMANY, IN SPAIN, OR ANYWHERE ELSE, EVER HAVING PAID A CENT TO ANYBODY.

There is a regular gang of thieves in London that makes it a business to swindle people in this way. There are similar thieves in Boston. They have been exposed in London often and some of them arrested.

When anybody tells you that you are entitled to ten millions or a hundred millions in Europe tell him to get it for you and you will give him half, but not to ask you for any money. Above all, don't be lured by false hope. Hope deferred is more painful than money lost.

The Cowardice of Despair

"The World Needs You or You Would Not Be. Your Place Is Waiting for You—Find It!"

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Copyright, 1908, by American Journal-Examiner

There is no philosophy or creed, or New or Old Thought, which can make the passing street from sight and sound and touch to a living heart.

If that dear one was old, ill, a sufferer, or mentally afflicted, the agony is too great to become only a painful experience, and may indeed be less painful than the narrow caused by the life of the unfortunate one before the door of the beautiful prison house was opened by the beautiful Angel of Death.

But when the being called is in the prime of life, in enjoyment of all the faculties, and when that being is a vital part of our daily existence, then indeed the wrench of grief is anguish.

Makes Grief Sacred
Without a belief in immortality and continued life on other planes of existence I do not know how loving souls bear such sorrow. With such faith the grief becomes sacred, and Time helps to soften the pain.

And what a blessing that Time does bring into the life of the heart becomes accustomed to its sense of loss and that new interests and duties fill the lonely places in the heart, so that the sense of loss is not so all pervading.

No mother ever forgets the loss of a child; yet what a divine provision for souls here, where continual presence and duties and obligations and joys from eternal brooding over old sorrows.

Yet here is an instance of a man who has suffered a great loss and who refuses to turn his thoughts away from his grief, and revelation. He is indeed drunk upon his own sorrow and utterly oblivious of his obligations as a father, friend and citizen.

The Despair of Selfishness
This is what he says of the loss of his adored wife after many years: "Only for our dear children, a girl as well as a boy, I surely would have died. When they have a merry party sometimes I sit upstairs, only dark grief for a companion, and weep bitter tears for her and the joys I have tasted."

There would be bright skies and ever-dewy woods, now nothing can lift the gloom. I live without a heart. Yes, living without a heart! All things are covered with the cruel veil of bitter memory of losing her. I think of the cruel transition. Once I had the exclusive companionship of an angel, who in her narrow way was the bliss of Heaven to me, and suddenly I was cast into darkness, and despair! I think, this is too much for a poor mortal—one who appreciates those blessings.

The flowers bloom in vain. The light has died from my days. I take no pleasure, no joy in anything. My sorrow grows with the lonely days. Some day the veil will be lifted.

Build Heaven on Earth
UNSELFISH consideration of the happiness of others makes an excellent foundation for a growth in these spiritual graves. The man who renders himself a melancholy and miserable companion for his children on earth will not be a pleasant or cheerful companion for his life in heaven. He will not be able to reach her plane.

We must lay the foundation of heaven here on earth, by making life as pleasant as we can for those nearest to us. Forget yourself for a few years, dear sir, and forget the low road to sorrow. Remember the obligations which devolve upon you as a human being, a father and a citizen. That will be your first step toward the land of restored joys.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

and the light I have lost will beam on me from her dear face, and I will see her and clasp her in my soul forever.

There is always a skeleton at the feast when such a perpetual mourner is in the house.

Imagine for an instant what this earth would be today if every living person who knew of the dreadful sorrow still hugged that sorrow to his heart and would not find distraction or consolation or recreation as the years passed on.

Were all the people living on earth today to follow the example of this one man, who believes himself a model of constancy, earth would be purgatory.

We have no right to shadow the lives of others with our gloom. It is selfish, illogical and wicked to dwell just after your own own loss, to look continually back and never forward.

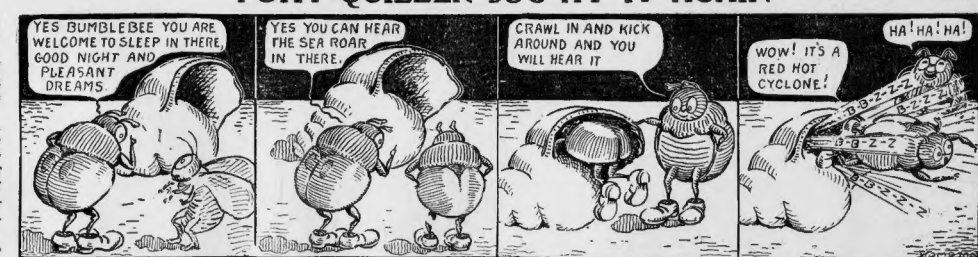

If we look forward we must prepare our minds for that reminder: it must be done by thought, and meditation, and study of spiritual things, not by retrospection of lost joys.

Build Heaven on Earth
UNSELFISH consideration of the happiness of others makes an excellent foundation for a growth in these spiritual graves. The man who renders himself a melancholy and miserable companion for his children on earth will not be a pleasant or cheerful companion for his life in heaven.
